RESCUE ADVANCES ON MINE CONDITIONS

MORE ORE AND A BETTER GRADE
SHOWING AS THE EAST
DRIFT ADVANCES

The rush for Rescue Eula stock this morning filled the brokerage offices to the doors with interested patrons of the market. The advance in silver made the entire list strong and brought out a buying movement such as has not been evident since the first week of March when the Rescue began to attract notice.

Officials of the Rescue, when asked concerning the sudden rise, stated that it was probably caused by an improvement in the width of the vein and the value of the ore which has taken place in the last four or five days in the east drift. No definite figures as to width or values could be had but it is known that the full width of the drift is in ore and that values are very good being as high, if not higher, than any that have been shown in this vein since it was opened. The east drift is out a distance of about 150 feet and the vein is unbroken for that distance with the ore continuous for the entire distance. All ore broken in driving this drift has been milled at a profit.

No. 1 raise is up over 60 feet and is in continuous ore for that distance and the values in the face at present are more than satisfactory.

No. 2 raise is up about 30 feet, and the same conditions as to ore exist.

No. 3 raise, started last week, shows the greatest width of ore of any of the raises with satisfactory values.

Two shipments have already been sent out this week.

MAKING MONEY BY MELTING CURRENCY

CHINESE CASH BEING EXPORTED
FOR COPPER BY SHREWD
JAP TRADERS

(By Associated Press.)

PEKING, Apr. 12.—Since the occupation of Tsingtau by the Japanese, traders from Japan have flocked into Shantung province in large numbers and have begun trading operations in centers where they have no treaty rights. Many of the traders are collecting old copper cash, the Chinese coins which have a hole in the center and are carried on strings, and are melting the coins down and selling the copper at a big profit.

Traffic in the Chinese copper cash is going on in many parts of China, regardless of the central government's regulations forbidding the exportation of cash.

Seventy thousand pieces of copper cash were recently seized by Chinese officials on a train at Changchun in Central Manchuria. This money was concealed in trunks and checked by Japanese. The cash is shipped to Shanghai or to Japanese ports where it is melted down and brings a high price because of the scarcity of copper.

In Peking and the more important commercial centers on the railways in China, cash is used only by the Chinese. The rate of exchange varies greatly in different places. Ordinarily ten cash are worth one copper cent.

Returns to The Daily Bonanza

John C. Martin has resumed his former position as associate editor of the Bonanza after an absence of sixteen months during which he acted as publicity manager for the Sprague interests in Goldfield and was, more recently, with the Southern Pacific Land department. For the latter company he prepared a new history of "Nevada, the Ground Floor State," "Humboldt county, the land of opportunity," "Grain Growing in Elko county," and "Dry Farming in Borderland." The latter pamphlet is devoted to the development of Box Elder county, Utah, which extends from the shores of Salt Lake to the Nevada line. These publications will have a circulation of over 500,000 copies.

OLD INDIAN FIGHTERS STICK TO THE TRAIL

Cavalry Pressing Through the Rugged Fastnesses of Sierra Madre Range

(By Associated Press.)

EL PASO, Apr. 12.—Masking his trail with the deluding fiction spread broadcast by peons that he is dead, Villa is believed by the Mexican officials of Juarez to be hidden in the recesses of the Sierra Madre while Americans are pursuing a rear guard band of Villistas whose strategy it is to beguile the pursuers from the hiding place of their chief.

Villa's Mexican followers say that in other campaigns this was the favorite trick of Villa when a chase got hot to have a story circulated that he was dead so the ardor of his pursuers would be dampened.

That the Americans have penetrated far beyond Parral is indicated in messages. It seems that Villa, is alive, has passed into the mountain fastnesses of Durango.

Reports from the front state the cavalry is still pressing pursuit and that no time has been lost through circulation of the report of Villa's alleged death. The trail has been kept in sight without any slackening of speed and scouts say the troops are steadily shortening the distance between the fugitive.

BLACK MAMMOTH GROUP OF MANHATTAN TAKEN UNDER BOND BY J. J. MCCARTHY

J. J. McCarthy, representing Outman interests, has taken a bond and lease on the Black Mammoth group of six claims in Manhattan and is proceeding rapidly with prospecting to decide what is the best point for the location of a working shaft and the installation of a large surface plant.

The Black Mammoth was formerly owned by Eugene Sullivan, who is now visiting Salt Lake, and Mark Kittering of Manhattan. The group is regarded as one of the best locations in the camp, old leasers having placed $15,000 to their credit from operations. The locality has been the source of some of the finest specimen ores shown in Manhattan and it is believed that with some prospecting the source of these specimens will be disclosed. All former work was done by tunneling in a fault but the new management proposes to prove the merits of the claims by sinking a shaft with the object of finding a ledge in place. The ore is all free milling of which 70 per cent can be saved by amalgamation while tests have proved that over a 90 per cent extraction is assured by cyanide as there is not the slightest trace of antimony or arsenic. When the former leasers quit work they had over 25,000 tons of $6.00 ore exposed that can be profitably treated on the ground.

Mr. McCarthy is associated with the men who are backing the Record Lode Mining company, of Outman, Ariz. These men have ample capital to finance anything they may undertake and their attention was drawn to the advantages of Manhattan by Mr. McCarthy, who has spent the last five months in the southern camp. For the past two weeks since returning to Tonopah and securing the option a force of eight men has been engaged prospecting the ground through a couple of shallow shafts that have been put down a distance of fifteen feet. In one of these shafts the bottom pans $8 and the conditions are said to be favorable for an improvement in the values. The next sixty days will tell.

As soon as the leasers are satisfied with the showing a complete equipment will be put in a fast as the machinery can be delivered.

Mr. J. J. McCarthy is one of the best known miners in the southern country having been superintendent of the White Caps and, during the Goldfield boom, was a charge of the Engineer's lease on the Florence which produced $1,165,000 in 88 days of actual mining. He is an old timer of Colorado having been connected with some of the best mines of Leadville and Cripple Creek.

AUSTRIA MENACED BY A FLOUR TRUST

HUNGARIAN MILLERS EXACT EX-ORBITANT PRICES FROM POOR CONSUMERS

(By Associated Press.)

ZURICH, Apr. 12.—Considerable apprehension has been excited in Austria by the announcement that the Hungarian flour mills are being organized into a powerful trust. Almost wholly dependent upon Hungary for wheat and other breadstuffs, the Austrian millers and bakers fear that this new corporation will increase still further their subjection to the other half of the monarchy.

Among the various questions which have arisen during the war, where the interests of the two nations have been divergent, none has occasioned more bitter feeling than those connected with the grain trade. Austria is chiefly an industrial country and Hungary an agricultural one, exporting enormous quantities of grains each year; a very large proportion of which goes to Austria.

When foodstuffs began to get scarce in the dual monarchy, Austria naturally suffered first. While in Hungary everybody had plenty to eat, and prices were moderate, the Austrians were on short rations, paying exorbitant prices, and having to suffer all the inconveniences and annoyances of the bread ticket system.

Remembering this, the Austrian millers are the more alarmed now at the prospect of this new trust in Hungary, feeling certain that very little grain will be allowed to cross the frontier.

The bulk of it will be converted first into flour and meal in the country where it is grown. Moreover, the Hungarian millers will be able to fix the buying and selling prices of both grain and flour.

Hungary cultivates over 25,000,000 acres of grain, against Austria's 16,000,000. Hungary's chief products, however, are wheat and corn while Austria's are oats and rye.

BUYING MORE WINE THAN BEFORE WAR

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, Apr. 12.—Notwithstanding the restrictions on the sale of spirituous liquors as a result of the war, England is importing just as much wine at least as before the war. During the year her imports were 10,129,878 gallons against 11,360,994 gallons in 1913 when the Rhine wines were cut off and the French exports had not declined. During the first two months of this year the imports increased over the corresponding period in 1913. It is said that the imports from Portugal have been very heavy during the last six months, exceeding those of any similar period.

COAST SURVEYORS HAVE NOVEL TROUBLE

RAG MARKERS PROVE TO TEMPT-
ING FOR INDIANS NOT TO STEAL

(By Associated Press.)

PANAMA, Apr. 12.—For several months the U. S. S. Leonidas, which has been engaged in surveying the Atlantic coast of Panama, has had numerous difficulties with the San Blas Indians. Serious clashes have been avoided only by the tact and patience of the officers of the ship.

One annoyance the officers have had to contend with has been the removal of cloth markers that the surveyors placed along the shore. The Indians found the bright calico too great a temptation to resist. After numerous remonstrances, the officers threatened that for each marker stolen a certain number of coconuts trees would be felled in reprisal. This had the desired result, for after a few trees had been chopped the Indians realized that the price was too high to pay for a few cents worth of bright colored cloth.
